

Soar With Three Rising Economies

The Rising 3 countries at a glance

Launched in 2003 the FMG Rising 3 Fund was one of the first country specific Russia, India and China (RIC) funds. China and India are two of the world's most populous states with a growing middle class and increasing internal consumption. Both countries are leading exporters and low cost manufacturing hubs. Russia is within years of becoming Europe's largest consumer market and today is the world's first and second largest natural gas and crude oil exporter respectively.

RUSSIA
RISING 3
CHINA INDIA

- The RIC economies make up a significant portion of global economic growth
- The countries have clean sovereign balance sheets, particularly when compared to developed nations
- The Rising 3 Fund has both greater China and direct mainland China A-share exposure
- India is the world's largest democracy with a young population
- The Russian stock market is resilient despite economic sanctions

Fund Description

The FMG Rising 3 Fund offers investors efficient access to the three largest emerging market countries, namely Russia, India, and China. The investment objective is to capture the long-term growth potential by investing primarily in securities of these three markets. The fund utilizes a multi-manager approach, providing diversification geographically but also among industry sectors. Managers are selected based on their proven expertise in managing assets and comprise predominantly a portfolio of equity securities. The fund is actively managed, with FMG applying both a top-down macro and a long-term quantitative model to determine geographical allocations, including cash levels between the three markets. FMG considers risk management and fund liquidity an integral element of the portfolio management process. The opportunistic nature of the fund targets investors with a higher risk-reward return profile.
